

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR DANIEL MONGIARDO

Lieutenant Governor Daniel Mongiardo has dedicated his life to the care of others in both the private and public sectors. Born the son of immigrant parents in Hazard, Kentucky, Lieutenant Governor Mongiardo studied at Transylvania University, University of Kentucky School of Medicine and McGill University. After completing his residency, he returned to Hazard to deliver specialized medical and surgical treatment to local residents, as well as any others who sought his expertise. His experiences as a doctor helped him recognize the importance of becoming a public leader in addressing concerns that face citizens across the Commonwealth. He successfully ran for the State Senate in 2000 and served the counties of Bell, Harlan, Leslie and Perry until his election to the office of Lieutenant Governor this fall. In this capacity, Dr. Mongiardo continues to fight for the betterment of all Kentuckians and the continued improvement of our state. Please join me in welcoming Lieutenant Governor Mongiardo.
